

Season 4 Episode 20

Crime of Eternity^2

In a universe in a far and obscure reach of the Ultraverse, there is a high tech and advanced civilization that worships Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion as gods. Statues of them are sprawled everywhere in the streets. They constantly appear painted on murals on the sides of buildings. There is a large TV in the city center that constantly displays philosophies from the three of them. Kids in the school gather around in a large auditorium where they stand with their heads bowed in worship of the heroes on the screen. The kids get seated and the principal takes the podium. The principal said, "I am glad to see you all here on our daily worshipping of Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion. Without them, everything we know would not exist. Well, it is that time of year again. It is time for the annual contest where each of you must craft a 3D work of art depicting the struggles that our heroes went up against and prevailed. It could range from a bunch of things like the three of them fighting the evil Clock King, Jason pouring orange soda on Clock King or Mason inventing something for the three of them to use against Clock King. The possibilities are endless. You all have a week to craft something. We are a strong group of kids." A kid in a blue school uniform with black hair is in the crowd. He thinks, "Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion are nothing but a bunch of frauds. What good have they done? No one has ever seen them before. How do we know they actually did anything for us? Maybe things would be better if Clock King ruled us."

The kid walks down a hallway and some bully kids crowd around the locker. They are all wearing shirts with Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion on them. The fat bully points to the kid and he said, "What is li'l Rico going to give us this year? Is he going to give us another Clock King statue?" Another bad kid said, "What do you have against our creators? You wouldn't exist if it weren't for them." Rico gives them a stern look. The fat bully pins Rico to the floor and he said, "I will let you go if you admit that Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion are the greatest things ever." Rico said, "I will not say that because that is not true." The principal walks down the hall and he sees the fat bully kid on top of Rico. The principal said, "Did you just say what I think you just said?" The fat bully kid said, "Rico here doubts that our creators are actually our creators. He thinks it is all a load of bullcrap." The principal said, "Looks like you will be staying way after school today." The principal grabs onto Rico and drags him into his office. The principal throws Rico into the office and he hands him a large stack of books. They are all books about Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion. The principal said, "I will lock you in there for five hours. That should be enough time to study those books. Then, I want you to write a ten-page essay on them.” The principal leaves Rico with the books. Rico looks at the books and he said, “Why do people like this stuff so much? Jason’s is a dumb manchild and Mason is supposedly smart. What’s the deal with Captain Fusion anyways? He just looks like an overly tall guy that wears a black suit with a ‘CF’ logo sloppily slapped on it.”

A pudgy Ultraverse monk with tan skin, black hair, and a black moustache runs down a street at nighttime and cops have their sirens on and they chase the monk down the street. The monk has a sack in his hand. He runs into a wall of trees and bushes. He rolls down a steep slope and he crashes into the window of the principal’s office. The monk sees Rico locked up in there alone. The monk takes out his sword and he cuts down the window and jumps in the office. Rico said, “Who are you?” The monk said, “I am Runald. I am an Ultraverse Monk or at least I was.” Rico said, “What’s an Ultraverse Monk?” Runald looks outside the window and he sees nothing but a dark abyss of trees and bushes. Runald said, “I think I am in the safe here.” Rico said, “I am trapped here. The principal keeps me trapped here against my will for not worshipping Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion. I think they are nothing but a bunch of frauds.” Runald said, “You are right. They are frauds. I’ve heard of them before. Some people consider them to be the greatest heroes in the Ultraverse. The truth is that Mason and Captain Fusion just get beat down and Jason nearly gets destroyed but he somehow wins due to his sheer dumb luck.” Rico’s eyes go big and he said, “You mean it is true then? Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion are nothing but frauds?” Runald said, “That’s correct.”

Rico said, “So you mean our universe is in a marble among other universes in marbles and they all exist in this one place called, ‘The Ultraverse?’” Runald said, “That’s correct. I am an Ultraverse Monk. Our goal is to serve and protect the Ultraverse. Or at least, that is how it is supposed to be until I found this.” Runald reaches in his sack and he pulls out some ancient looking papers. Rico looks over the papers and Runald said, “I found these. As it turns out, the Ultraverse produces these highly powered universe marbles which exist in various spots in the Ultraverse. If someone were to get all of these marbles, they would end up with godlike powers. If we find these marbles, we could get godlike powers and we could film ourselves destroying Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion and we can prove to this universe what frauds they are. Rico grins and said, “I like that idea.” Runald said, “The monk order used to be very prestigious but now they have fallen. They were going to destroy these ancient papers so no one will ever find these marbles.” Rico said, “How are we going to get to the Ultraverse?” Runald said, “I have a portal hidden in the city park. You will come with me. I know where Jason and Mason live.”

Runald and Rico hide from cops down the dark city streets at night. They are in the park where a large stone statue of Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion stands in the center and it looks like they stare at people that enter the park. Runald takes Rico into his portal and they go through a black and green spiral vortex and they end up in a bright and sunny desert in the Ultraverse. Rico said, "Where are we?" Runald said, "We are in a desert. This is where I was when the Ultraverse monks found me. I came here because one of those powerful marbles is supposedly buried in this desert. I guess the monks left because they figured I have escaped this desert. That means we can dig now." Runald and Rico dig through the sand and Rico finds a purple shiny ball. Rico holds it up to the sky. Runald said, "You found one of them. Now we can get to my ship. I know where the rest are."

Runald and Rico get into a monk transport and they fly to various places in the Ultraverse. They go to a swamp with a castle. Rico digs through the mud and grass while Runald fights off knights in shining armor with his monk sword. Rico finds a red marble. Runald and Rico climb up a rocky mountain. Runald and Rico use pickaxes to dig into the mountain surface and they find the blue marble. Runald and Rico travel to a frozen icy neighborhood and they dig into a large chunk of ice. They find a yellow marble in the large ice chunk. Runald and Rico go to a very futuristic city where there is a large patch of green grass and there is a tower in the center of it and it has an orange marble in a container at the very top of the tower. Black security droids spot Runald and Rico and they equip blasters to blast down Runald and Rico. Runald takes out his sword and he slashes down some of the droids. Rico takes a plasma cannon off one of the destroyed droids and he uses it to blast down the remaining droids. Rico uses it to fire a fully charged plasma blast and it hits the tower and it crumbles. Runald catches the container with the orange marble in it. Runald and Rico fly through a dark and grey stormy sky where lightning is constantly striking. They fly the monk transport into the center of a dark dense cloud and they find the green marble in it. They open a hatch on the ship and the ship flies to collect the green marble.

Runald and Rico have all the marbles stored in a pallet that looks like it could be used for painting. Runald said, "We make an awesome team. Now we must find Jason and Mason. I know all about Mason's lab. There are plenty of books on it in the Ultraverse library. I know just where to go to find it. You should never underestimate Jason and Mason. Even though they are dumb, they are still quite resourceful. I am pretty sure I have some equipment and parts back there to make a killer robot. I even have some books there on how Mason's battle mechs work." Runald pilots the transport while Rico uses the parts and components to assemble a robotic battle suit for himself. It is fully equipped with rocket launchers and plasma blasters in the hands and feet. It can also fly and is heavily shielded.

Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion are in Mason's lab where they work on upgrading Captain Fusion's large attack robot. The large attack robot is black and has a black on the back and red in the front cape. It has a red, "CF" logo on the chest and it has a head that looks like a samurai helmet that is black and laced with red lines. Mason and Captain Fusion assemble wires together. They place a new layer of shielding on the battle robot. Captain Fusion said, "With these new upgrades, we can take on Clock King 2.0 and beat him easy." Jason said, "If this new Clock King ever comes for us, I will just pour some of my trusty orange soda on him." Jason chugs down an orange soda. The door to Mason's lab is blasted off and Rico zips in with his new flying battle suit with a camera on the chest and he is armed with the pallet of the different universes. Runald runs in behind Rico with his sword equipped.

Rico sends energy blasts out of the pallet and he destroys parts of Mason's lab. Captain Fusion said, "Get into the new mech. Looks like we will be testing it sooner than expected." Mason said, "I have not finished the upgrades yet. This thing may explode in our faces." Captain Fusion said, "That's a risk we are going to have to take. Get to your battle stations." Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion get to their seats where they get to their controls. Mason's controls look high tech, Captain Fusion's controls are black with red outlines, and Jason's controls still look like baby toys. The three of them control the mech and they smack Rico in the face. Rico grabs onto the fist of the Fusion Mech and he flips it over and it smashes through the wall of Mason's lab and out on the suburb street. Rico and Runald approach the Fusion Mech. The Fusion Mech gets up. The Fusion mech grabs onto Rico and it smashes Rico deep into the asphalt of the road. Runald takes out his sword and he cuts through some of the shielding on the Fusion Mech. Runald cuts some of the wiring on the mech. The Fusion mech jerks over a bit. Rico jumps and he uses the power of the colored marbles to blast the Fusion Mech to a point where it glows red and explodes. Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion are sent flying into the air and they land back down on the road in front of Rico and Runald. Rico grabs onto the backs of Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion. Runald summons a portal and they walk into the portal and they appear back in Runald's transport ship.

Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion are placed in a storage section of the monk transport and Rico and Runald are also present. Jason said, "What do you have against us?" Rico said, "Everything." Jason said, "What did we ever do to you? Who poured crap in your cereal flakes this morning?" Rico said, "You don't know how much I despise you. My universe makes us bow down and worship the three of you several times every day. If you say a single thing that suggests you may not be the greatest things to ever exist, then you get punished. I want to prove to all of the people of my universe that you three are nothing but frauds. That is why I have this camera on my chest." Rico points to the camera on his chest. Mason said, "This still doesn't make any sense. We never created any universes." Rico said, "Oh, but you did. You don't realize it but the whole Ultraverse and all the universes exist according to the legend. The legend says you were fighting Clock King before anything existed and Jason spilled soda on Clock King and he exploded causing the entire Ultraverse to exist. Or at least, that's what the legend says." Jason said, "That really did happen. I spilled orange soda on Clock King and it made him explode." Rico aims his pallet to Jason and he said, "So you admit you are responsible for the entire Ultraverse existing. If you came to my universe, you would be worshipped as gods and they would blindly believe every single thing you say or do. The people in my universe are watching the feed from my camera right now."

In the universe that Rico came from, the giant TV in the city center is showing the camera feed from Rico's camera. They see Rico tormenting Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion. Captain Fusion said, "Look, we were never meant to be worshipped as gods. Maybe we can go to your universe and we can work something out with them." Rico said, "That is not going to happen. Why would I let you be reasonable to people that were never reasonable to me? You are getting killed right here, right now. I have the most powerful weapon in the Ultraverse at my fingertips." Rico gives Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion a good look at the pallet. Mason said, "I think I read about that somewhere. Those are those powerful single colored universe marbles. They grow in various parts of the Ultraverse and they can be used as seeds to possibly create another Ultraverse. Most people believed them to be myths. I guess they are not. You don't realize what you are doing with those things. They could also be utilized as an energy source for weapons of mass destruction." Rico said, "That's what I intend. Everyone is watching and they are waiting for the conclusion of this fight. Just let me destroy you and then..." Captain Fusion uses his foot to smack Rico in the face but Rico still has a strong grip on the pallet. Runald draws out his sword and he swings it at Captain Fusion.

Jason and Mason go against Rico to get the pallet from him. Rico tries to blast Mason with the energy but he misses and hits the floor in front of Mason and it sends Mason flying into an engineering control room. Rico tries to run after Mason but Jason jumps on Rico. Rico throws Jason off him. Rico tries to run for Jason and Jason places his hand on Rico's head and Rico tries running into Jason but he can't get anywhere because Jason's hand is on Rico's head. Jason said, "I bet you wish you could be as tall as everyone else." Rico fires a blast from his hand into Jason and Jason is sent flying into a wall where the wall breaks and he gets stuck in the wall.

Captain Fusion tries to smack down Runald and Runald blocks all of Captain Fusion's attacks with his sword. Runald swings his sword at Captain Fusion and Captain Fusion jumps back. Runald swings his sword at Captain Fusion's head and Captain Fusion grabs onto the blade of the sword. Captain Fusion bends the blade a bit. Runald smacks Captain Fusion in the head and he uses his partially bent sword to slash Captain Fusion's body with his suit getting ripped. Runald smacks Captain Fusion in the head with the partially bent sword. Runald smacks Captain Fusion in the center body and he uppercuts Captain Fusion sending him sliding on the floor.

Runald reunites with Rico. Runald said, "It looks like we have defeated our adversaries. I am sure you got all of this on camera." Rico said, "I most certainly did." People in Rico's universe are watching this on the large TV. They all look fearful. The principal of Rico's school is in his office watching this on a laptop. The principal said, "When that Rico comes back, he is going to be put away for a period of time longer than he can conceive."

Runald said, "We really showed those fools who the real rulers of the Ultraverse should be. We will rule the Ultraverse and we can form an empire greater than any other empire ever known. It would put the Asterix Empire to shame." Rico said, "Correction, I am going to form an empire greater than anything ever known." Rico utilizes the energy from the pallet and he sends a blast of energy through Runald and it leaves a large open oval hole in his body. Runald looks down at the opening in his body and his eyes jerk up and he falls in front of Rico. Rico said, "I am the only one that has the entitlements. No one else deserves anything but me."

Mason is in the engineering control room. He sees all kinds of control panels and mechanical systems at work. Mason said, "This must be the main engineering operations section of a monk transport. Ultraverse Keith had me work on one of these once. There must be something here I can do to sabotage the ship." Mason looks at the controls and he finds a button that reads, "View main ship core." Mason said, "I think I found my answer." Mason presses the button and a cylinder filled with wires, circuit boards and working systems rises from the center of the control room. Mason takes out a wrench and looks over the cylinder. Mason said, "Now, which of these components do I sabotage?" Rico barges into the room and he aims the pallet at Mason. Rico fires energy blasts at Mason and Mason runs around the room dodging the blasts. Mason jumps to Rico and he is armed with a wrench. Rico smacks at Mason's legs causing Mason to plummet to the floor. Rico aims his pallet at Mason. Mason said, "You are not going to blast that thing at me. You won't because you are too close and it will likely destroy you too?" Rico said, "You are right. I will use it on your dumb twin and that fruity superhero you are with."

Jason walks into the engineering control room and he sees the exposed core of the ship. Mason spots Jason and Mason said, "Jason. That is the core of the ship. We must sabotage it." Jason walks to the cylinder and he said, "Hey Rico. I am going to destroy you the same way I destroyed Clock King.” Jason takes out a can of orange soda from one of his cargo shorts pockets and he opens the can. Jason pours the orange soda over the cylinder. Orange soda flows over it and it does nothing. Jason said, “I guess it is still too thirsty.” Jason takes out another can and empties it on the cylinder with orange soda running down the core and down the floor. Rico said, “You didn’t think they wouldn’t put a protective layer on the core, did you? Now I have you in good range. I can blast you down easy.” Rico walks a bit to Jason and Rico slips in the shallow flood of orange soda. Rico has the pallet in his hand and he slips and he falls and all the marbles in the pallet are faced down. They are smashed hard into the floor and they shatter like glass. A multicolored implosion occurs and it causes space to be expanded. A map displays the Ultraverse as it is and a new Ultraverse that is much larger is formed next to the Ultraverse. Rico is sent flying into the far reach of this Ultraverse where he ends up in a section that is snowy and icy and is covered with pine trees. People in Rico’s universe watch the implosion on the large TV and they are all scratching their heads over the odd implosion.

Jason and Mason get up and Jason said, “What just happened?” Mason said, “It looks like the marbles were destroyed by a violent smash. I remember reading that those marbles are supposed to be like seeds for a possible second Ultraverse to be formed. It seems that Rico smashed them and... It is possible that he could have formed a second Ultraverse.” Jason’s eyes go big. Mason said, “This ship still seems to be working. Ultraverse Keith taught me how to work these things. Let’s get home.” The ship flies off to Jason and Mason’s home universe.
